

Could You Live On 50% Of Your Salary – Or Less?

Most employees rely on their employers for disability insurance* – so it's important for clients to offer coverage. But how much is enough? The fact is, the higher an employee's earnings, the less protected they may be. This infographic shows why.

As part of Disability Insurance Awareness Month, share the infographic with clients to raise awareness of the significant coverage gaps their employees may have – even with group disability coverage in place. Then, contact your Guardian Group Sales Representative to develop a strong program that can help better protect your clients' entire workforce.
